seeds #28

In this video, Johannes from our team introduces you to how we at subject:RESOUL prepare and document our consent-based meetings, so that they are not annoying, tedious, shallow and difficult to follow-up afterwards. Instead, they are fun - yes, it's possible! - and leave us with the feeling that we've really accomplished something each time.

Get inspired by this simple and effective structure that we implement with elements from Kanban and the Trello tool.
