

LEADERSHIP AS APPRENTICESHIP?

Hello!

Are you a leader?

Did you receive training for it?

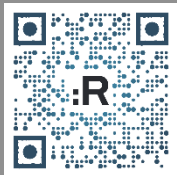

One word of consolation first: You don't need an apprenticeship for leadership! Instead, your training happens mostly in practice and that is unpredictable.

So today, we're sharing a few allowances derived from our understanding of leadership:

- You are allowed to not know something!
- You can ask for help sometimes!
- You don't always have to be the rock against the waves; you can show weakness sometimes!
- You don't always have to give the direction, but you can ask for it!
- You are allowed to make mistakes and learn from them!
- And above all, you can ask for feedback, which is not an expression of incompetence, but of self-reflection and growth.

Meeting at eye-level creates a culture of safety in which your employees will also feel comfortable following your example!

Curious For
More Tools?
(click or scan qr-code)

